Notice regarding submission deadline for letters of recommendation and language evaluations in support of student applicants to the Fulbright-Hays Doctoral Dissertation Research Abroad (DDRA) Program from the UW-Madison's Fulbright Coordinator, Mark Lilleleht:

Letters of recommendation and language evaluations must be submitted electronically before the campus deadline in order for your student to submit their complete application by the campus deadline.

There are no exceptions to the campus deadline. A student who does not submit a complete electronic application by 10:00am, Thursday, March 28, 2024 will not have their application forwarded to the U.S. Department of Education.

You will receive an email generated by the Department of Education's G6/G5 application with instructions, a link, and log-in credentials inviting you to submit your recommendation in support of the student's application.

The Closing Date that is listed in the email you received from the G6/G5 application system is the institutional deadline and is later than the campus deadline. Submit prior to the campus deadline. There is no exception to the requirement that the letter be submitted electronically; this is a federal requirement.

NOTE: Do not use any special or non-English characters in your submitted letter's file name. If you are submitting a letter while abroad, you will need to do so via a VPN or virtual private network connection. <https://g6.ed.gov/> is a federal website and will not accept anything from a non-U.S. IP address.
